Mandatory Commercial & Multi-Family Recycling

The City of Encinitas has adopted a Construction & Demolition Debris (C&D) Ordinance (2008-14) to help divert waste from landfills and comply with statewide mandates. C&D materials include, but are not limited to, asphalt, concrete, brick, dirt, rock, lumber, cardboard, metals and any vegetative or other land clearing/landscaping materials. All covered projects (demolition permits and building projects 10,000 square feet or greater) are required to reuse, salvage or recycle 60% of all C&D debris generated from the project.

In addition, effective July 1, 2012, California State law AB341 requires that commercial enterprises which generate four cubic yards or more of solid waste weekly must participate in recycling programs. This requirement also includes multi-family housing complexes of five units or more, regardless of the amount of solid waste generated each week.

EDCO Waste and Recycling Services, the City's permitted waste and recycling contractor, offers commercial recycling services throughout Encinitas. EDCO representatives will establish recycling services that meet your needs for a reasonable monthly cost. Establishing recycling programs may lower your total cost for waste collection services since recycling service fees are substantially lower than waste collection fees.

For more information on commercial and multi-family recycling services visit: edcodisposal.com/commercial/sd-north/recycling.html

Stormwater Pollution Prevention

Did you know that storm drains are not connected to sewer treatment plants?

The main purpose of storm drains is to carry rainwater away from developed areas to prevent flooding. The storm drain system includes streets, gutters, underground pipes, and open channels that transport runoff flows directly into our creeks, rivers, lagoons and the ocean.

Stormwater pollution can have a negative impact on water quality in Encinitas. Polluted runoff can harm inland and coastal habitats and wildlife, and pose a human health risk at our local beaches. We can all do our part to protect these resources and the quality of life that Encinitas has to offer. Simple practices can make a big difference and below are some simple steps that you can take to prevent stormwater pollution:

- Adjust sprinklers and prevent over-watering.
- Avoid over using pesticides and fertilizers and find alternatives.
- Pick up after your pets. Pet waste contains bacteria.
- Properly dispose of all hazardous waste and trash.
- Use non-toxic and biodegradable cleaning products.
- Keep your car properly maintained to prevent fluid leaks.
- Save time and the environment by taking your vehicle to a commercial carwash.
- Keep sediment from leaving your property or construction site.
- Volunteer at beach cleanup events in Encinitas.

The City of Encinitas Clean Water Program provides the following core services:

- Educational Outreach
- Water Quality Monitoring/Testing
- Development Standards Oversight
- Commercial, Construction, and Industrial Inspections
- Complaint Response and Investigations

Report Pollution to the Clean Water Hotline: (760) 633-2787 or email us at cleanwater@encinitasca.gov

Did you know that we all live in a Watershed?

A watershed is an area of land that drains all the water into creeks, rivers, lagoons, and eventually the ocean. The City of Encinitas is in the Carlsbad Watershed and drains into Batiquitos Lagoon, San Elijo Lagoon, Cottonwood Creek, beaches from Grandview to Seaside, and the Pacific Ocean.

Visit us on the web at www.encinitasenvironment.org.

Home Composting

Composting is nature's way of recycling. It is the controlled natural decomposition of organic materials such as leaves, grass clippings, prunings, and fruit, vegetable, and grain scraps. Over time, the sun, worms, and microorganisms break down organic materials into compost. Using the finished compost in your landscaping is a great way to return nutrients to the soil and help conserve water.

The Solana Center for Environmental Innovation provides free composting workshops for City of Encinitas residents.

Visit the Solana Center website for more information at www.solanacenter.org, or call (760) 436-7986 x 222 to learn more.

Home compost bins and worm bins are subsidized by the City of Encinitas for Encinitas residents, and are available at the Solana Center for $40 (retail value $110), price subject to change.
